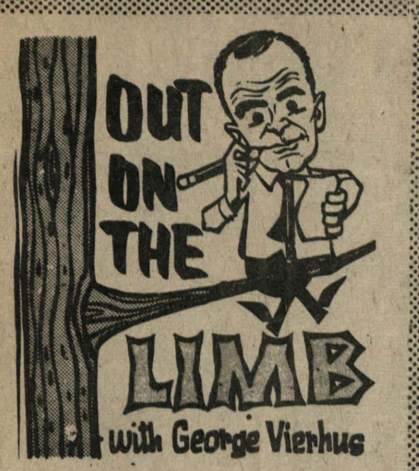
Pictorial review of 1965



THIS COLUMN this week probably should contain a round-up of news events of the past year with some clever comments to supplement them.

But it is not going to work out thataway.

To begin with we are, as usual, running a sort pictorial review of the year in this issue. We will have to go along with that old Chinese proverb or something that a picture is worth ____ words (You can fill in the number to suit yourself).

Then, of course, there is the added factor that the flu bug has been hovering over us during the holiday season; zooming in on target just when the spirit of the season should have been at the highest.

Somehow the bug never did find its mark completely; but just enough to make its presence felt and to put a damper on some of the more pleasant activities that are so much a part of the holiday season.

THE YEAR that draws to a close day after tomorrow has been a very active one... There were some ups and there were some downs.

From a personal viewpoint we think there were more "ups" than there were "downs." And if 1966 follows the same pattern that should be satisfactory. One can hardly ask for more.

So, on that rather prosaic note, we of The Press wish you all a HAPPY NEW YEAR.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT is something that is hard to define.

There are few who are immune from it. But, as Sue Smith, who is setting this column on the IBM, says, "wouldn't it be wonderful if it lasted the whole year?"

Yet we are not sure whether we would want it that way.

It would be hard getting used to having all that sweetness and light and that spirit of good fellowship spread over 12 months.

It would be utopia but it would also be a make-believe world. Life is really not thataway.

We must be thankful that during the Christmas season people are pleasant and cheerful.

After the new year they go back to being their nasty selves.

BUT FOR A TIME it's great. And, as we say, everyone seems to get into the spirit.

For example, Dorothy drove into a

END COMES--As pictured above, one of downtown Campbell's oldest buildings, the Odd Fellows Hall at First St. and Campbell Ave., was leveled this week, bringing the end to an era that had its beginning around the turn of the century.

The two-story structure, build about 1904, was the scene of many lodge and community activities during its 60 years of existence.

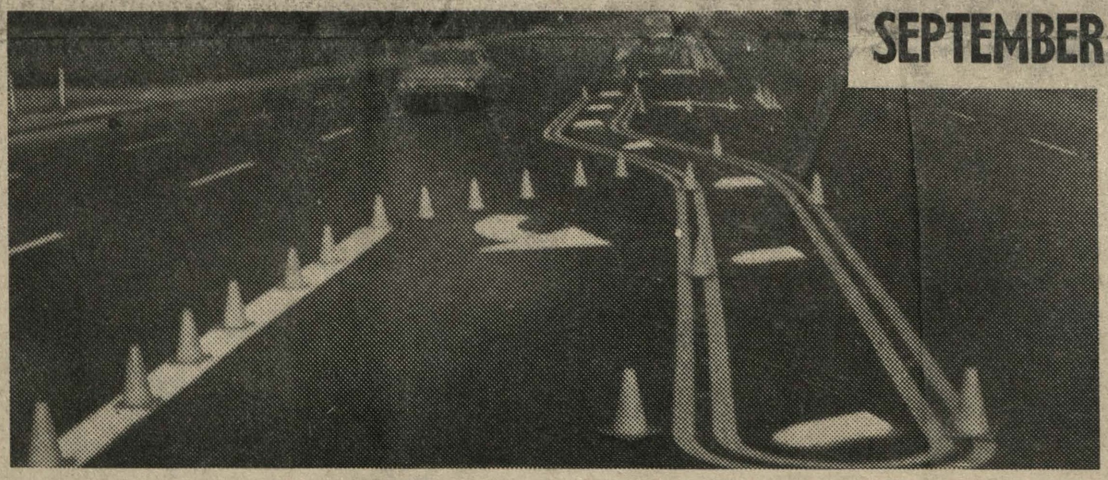
HAPPY FAMILY--Most pleasant surprise at the testimonial dinner for Bill Henley, retiring school superintendent, which was attended by more than 600 well wishers, was a family reunion. Friends of the Henley's arranged air transportation for their daughter, Mrs. Janice Sharp, from Dallas, Texas and their son, Jerrold, from Sonora. Present also at the affair were the mothers of both Mr. and Mrs. Henley as well as other close relatives. The proud and happy Mr. and Mrs. Bill Henley with their son and daughter are pictured above.

Tributes from many sources were paid Henley at the dinner who ends 21 years at the helm of the local elementary schools on June 30.

SEPTEMBER



READY FOR ONSLAUGHT--On Monday morning of this week city and county officials officially opened Hamilton Ave. to cross-town traffic. The construction was a joint city-county effort. The opening of Hamilton Ave. has meant the closing of both Rincon and Latimer avenues to through traffic to allow the expressway construction to be completed. Neither Latimer nor Rincon will be reopened.

NOVEMBER

ALL WET--When this season's first heavy rainstorm hit town last week, the situation became dampish in a big way in the construction areas where the San Tomas Expressway is wending its way through town, specifically at Virginia and Campbell avenues and also on Hamilton and Budd.

The photo was taken near the bridge that is under construction by the Dan L. Caputo Co., on Campbell Ave. near Virginia Ave.

This is the same spot about which the residents in the area have complained so bitterly because of the problems their children have going to and from school.

CLARK'S

THE END OF AN ERA--Clark's Drugs, at the corner of Campbell and Harrison Avenue, closed their doors Oct. 1. A drug store has occupied the same spot for nearly fifty years. Although undergoing many modernizations, the establishment for many years was considered the "pulse beat" of Campbell. (Oct. 6, 1965).

They question questionnaire

Council wants to know if people will pay extra for park services

Campbell city councilmen are anxious to learn how the residents feel about expanded park and recreational activities within the city limits.

But the councilmen also very definitely want to know whether the people are willing to pay for the expansion by a bond issue of extra taxes.

And any questionnaire presented to the people should specify that.

That was brought out Monday night when the councilmen got their first peek at the questionnaire drafted by the Parks and Recreation Commission and which is to be distributed to 5000 homes in the city before the end of January.

The councilmen were not too happy with the commission's efforts.

They maintained that the questionnaire did not pinpoint how additional park and recreational facilities would be financed and whether the people would be willing to pay the extra cost.

They also felt that a number of other questions were too indefinite and misleading. They emphasized that before the questionnaire would be distributed there would have to be some modifications to it.

LeRoy Black, park superintendent, told the council that 5000 copies of the two page questionnaire had already been prepared for distribution and that arrangements had been made by the Boy Scouts to have them delivered to every home. He emphasized that time was running out.

The councilmen, however, indicated that they were responsible for the wording, even if the commission drew it up, and it was not satisfactory the way it had been presented.

City Manager Bob Stephens said he would work with the commission and Black to make the necassary corrections. He was sure that they would still meet the deadline for distribution. He indicated the corrected questionnaire would be ready for the next council meeting (Jan. 10) and also for the January meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

service station to have the license plates put on the little bug and a wire changed on the car radio.

The attendant did the job whistling all the time. He then waved her on her way with a cheery "Merry Christmas." And she didn't even buy any gas.

That's what we mean.

Then take Pat Lamson, the daughter of the Bill Means', as another shining example.

She stayed up late one night before Christmas wrapping all the gifts.

Before she was up the next morning her young son, Scott, had unwrapped them all and scattered them all over the floor.

Naturally Scott's reprimand was mitigated because of the season.

But, if that had happened at any other time of the year---!

On the other hand, Scott wouldn't have had such a fine opportunity to keep so busy at any other time.

So, that sort of evens it up.

We repeat, Christmas spirit is wonderful...

But, no, Sue, we doubt if we could stand it all year.

NEWS RELEASES during the past year from every conceivable source have flooded our desk. That's nothing new or different.

We expect the flow to continue during the next year.

Much of the stuff, unfortunately, goes immediately into the wastepaper basket. It's sort of sad in a way because we know that some person, some place has struggled hard and long to compile some of these releases.

But so often their value is almost nil.

The releases come from business firms, from politicians, from organizations we have never heard of, simply from all over.

Some contain pertinent data and are worthwhile. Then there are the others--.

Recently, just for fun, we clipped the first sentences from a group of releases that arrived in one day's mail.

For want of something better to do, we will share the results of part of 'em with you just to give you an idea of the variety of subjects that can be covered.

"Over 108 million Americans have regular medical expense insurance which helps pay non-surgical doctor bills...."

"The glamour job of airline stewardess is no longer as difficult to obtain for minority young women as once was the case...."

"Eating wild mushrooms and playing Russian Roulette are dangerous pasttimes...."

"Nearly eight of ten Christmas trees for California's holiday season will be imported from out of state...."

"The California State Employment Service office today received an urgent request from the Hawaii State Department of Education to assist them in recruiting elementary and secondary school teachers for the spring term...."

"Assemblyman Alfred E. Alquist (D-San Jose) formally announced today that he would be a candidate for Senator from the proposed 13th Senatorial District in Santa Clara County.... numerous requests, Speaker Unruh is giving the attached letter to Governor Edmund G. Brown for general circulation among the press...."

"The educational, research and supporting facilities of the University of California are pouring more than $300 million a year into the economy of the Bay Area...."

WE COULD INCLUDE some more but this gives you an idea of the material that comes across our desk and this is only a small weekly newspaper.

Opening the mail, as you have gathered, can be practically a college education in a capsule form.

BUT again, we repeat...

'Downtown plans' get airing January 17

Residents and property owners within the general area that will be affected by the proposed Campbell downtown development plan are urged to attend a public hearing called by the Planning Commission for Monday, Jan. 17.

According to Thayer Lyons, chairman of the commission, the area involved extends on both sides of Campbell Ave. from Winchester to Harrison.

Although Latimer on the north and Rincon on the south are generally considered the north and south boundaries of the area, city officials explain that such streets as Alice, Sunnyside and Kennedy on the south could also be affected by the proposed downtown development.

Dick Hogan, city planning director, explains that the hearing called by the Planning Commission is strictly for informational purposes and it is not the usual "legal" type of public hearing.

"Residents and property owners within the area will be encouraged to participate in the discussions on the proposed plans for the downtown area," Hogan said, "because it is of vital importance to know their reaction to any future developments.

The type of zoning that will be necessary in the area; the effect of the off-street parking district; an expanded civic center complex; and the development of north and south through streets will be some of the topics that may be discussed at the hearing.

Car accident kills couple Monday

Killed Monday afternoon in a highway accident were Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Grimes, of 261 N. Harrison St. in Campbell. Also killed in the accident was Debbie Weston, 14, of Sacramento, a passenger in the Grimes car. Other passengers in the car, the two small daughters of the accident victims, Gail, 3 and Diane, 5, were thrown from the car and suffered minor injuries.

According to the accident report Walter E. Grimes, 30, was driving a new Volkswagon coupe when it went out of control in the southbound fast lane of the Junipero Serra Freeway, east of Highway 9. The car overturned several times, crossing the divider strip and was struck by a northbound convertible driven by Ralph L. Wimer, 27, of 4965 Grimsby Dr. Wimer suffered minor injuries. California Highway Patrolman Robert Kurtz who investigated the accident, stated that Grimes probably over-corrected his VW after it was struck by a gust of strong wind, while traveling at an estimated 80 miles per hour.

Grimes and Miss Weston were pronounced dead on arrival at El Camino Hospital. Mrs. Jonice Grimes, 27, died at the hospital 3 1/2 hours later. Grimes was an employee of Univac Corp. in Los Altos.

The Santa Clara County coronors office reports that funeral services are pending at the Parent Funeral Home in Petaluma.

REAPPOINTED--Frank Kukuk was reappointed Monday night by the City Council for a full term on the Parks and Recreation Commission. Kukuk was originally appointed to the commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of John Kelly.

Council defers action on gas station control

Because Councilman Bill Smeed was absent Monday night, the City Council deferred action on the proposed so-called "gas station control" ordinance until the Jan. 10 meeting.

The new ordinance was up for second reading Monday. It would basically limit service stations in the future to intersections of two four-lane streets or to shopping centers. A divided vote is expected and the council felt that the entire council should be present for the tally.

The council also deferred action on the traffic signal problem in the city, including Winchester-Rincon, until Jan. 24 when a complete report on the signal situation will be made. Action on the request of Northwest National Life Insurance Co. to have a payroll deduction set up for employees insured by the company was also deferred until Jan. 24.

In another action, the City Council enthusiastically drafted two resolutions of appreciation for the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs.

City takes over lighting districts from county

Five separate lighting districts within the city limits of Campbell, now administered by the county, will be consolidated into one municipal district under city control effective Jan. 1, 1967.

The first official move in the changeover will take place at a public hearing called by the City Council for 3 p.m. Monday, Jan. 3.

City officials emphasize that the residents' tax bills will not be affected by the transfer. After the municipal district is operating, what now appears as a county tax will then appear as a city tax.

Notices of the hearing have been posted on all streets of the city, as provided in the state legislation.

According to Bill Wren, acting city engineer, recent legislation allows the county to get out of the lighting business within cities and form one district for the entire unincorporated area of the county.

Wren said that Campbell and portions of Saratoga are the only incorporated areas within the county still remaining within the old districts. All of the other cities have already undertaken the administration of their districts.

The five lighting districts within the city have been administered by the county since Campbell was incorporated in 1952. The districts were formed as a means of providing funds for street lighting energy costs.

The funds have been regularly collected with the county taxes and dispersed to PG&E in accordance with the amount of electrical energy used year by year.

Hamilton ave. lease must get court okay

A petition has been filed in the Superior Court requesting permission to lease ten acres of land on Hamilton Ave. near the San Tomas Expressway, for $40,000 per year according to E. F. De Vilbiss, Campbell attorney. The court hearing will be on Jan. 4.

De Vilbiss is attorney for Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lewis, 775 W. Latimer, Campbell, acting as guardians of Calogero Orland, 98, of the same address.

The lease before the court involves the Sutter Hill Development company of Palo Alto. The lease-option agreement includes the right to purchase the property for approximately $51,000 per acre, according to De Vilbiss.

Orland purchased the property, the bulk of which is situated at the corner of Hamilton and San Tomas Expressway, in 1945.

The property is now zoned planned development.

Sutter Hill, according to the attorney, specializes in commercial developments and after court approval will commence discussions of their development plans with city officials.

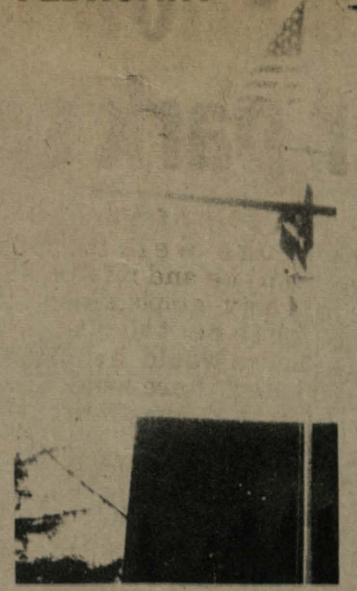
LITTLE CAR "LIFTS" BIG ONE--Four cars were involved last Thursday in one of the most freakish traffic accidents to ever occur in downtown area of Campbell. Only minor injuries were suffered by the persons in the cars.

The photos above show three of the cars that participated in this mobile free-for all, which many claim could not have happened. But it did. The fourth car involved was struck at Central Ave., a block away from the above shots.

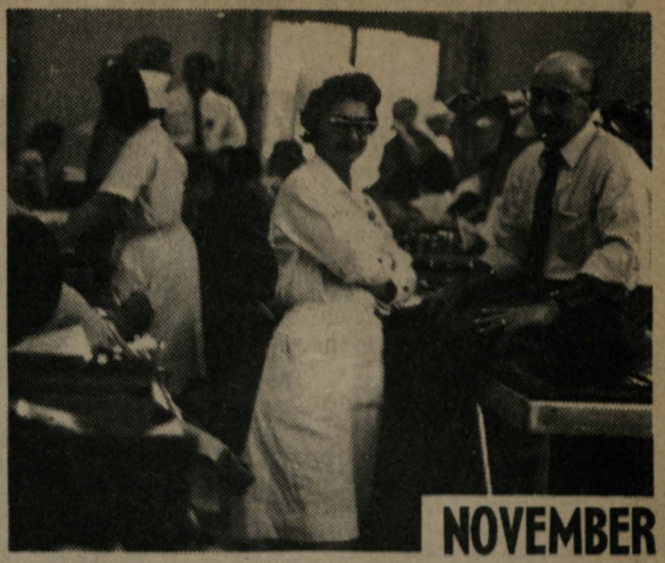
A little Volkswagon became a virtual wedge, forced by a 1965 Chrysler that had struck it in the rear and literally lifted a 1963 Olds off the ground. The Olds, unoccupied, was parked on Campbell Ave. near Second St.

In the top photo on the left the Volks has just been towed away and the Olds appears to be suspened in mid-air (actually a cable was attached to another tow truck). The close-up on the top right shows the smashed in top of the Volks. The close-up on the top photo in the lower left shows how the three cars ended. The Volks is shown under the Olds in the right lower photo. (Sept. 22, 1965).

FEBRUARY



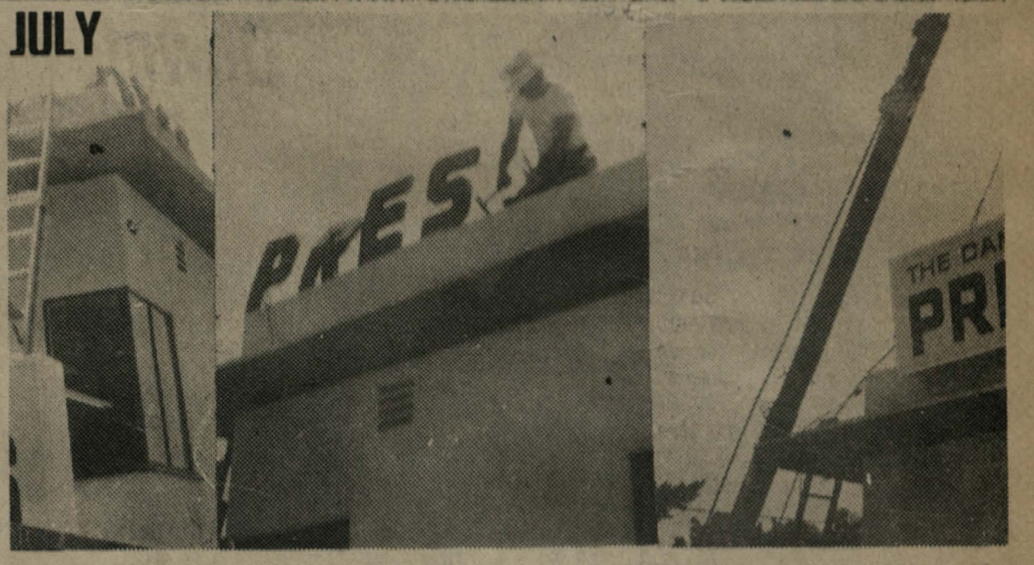
LONG MAY IT WAVE--Campbell's city hall now has a flagpole complete with flags, as pictured above. This marks the first time that the city hall in its seven years history has sported a flag.



NOVEMBER

MANY GIVE BLOOD--The Jaycee Blood Drive for Viet Nam received the endorsement of two cities, Campbell and Santa Clara, in a very material way last Thursday. Above Mayor Charles Rose prepares to donate his pint under the watchful eye of Mrs. Evelyn Burton, R.N. (Nov. 17, 1965).

JULY



ALL OF US HAVE TO GO--The wooden letters "PRESS" that have served to designate the Campbell Press building since its construction in 1950 have been replaced with a modern, illuminated sign. The weather-beaten wooden letters, it was felt, had already given the best years of their life to this newspaper. But it was with a touch of nostalgia that we watched 'em go. (July 21, 1965).

DECEMBER

NEW COUNCILMAN--Mrs. Dorothy Trevethan, city clerk, administers the oath of office to Homer Hyde. Hyde, a long-time member of the Planning Commission, was appointed to the City Council to the vacancy created by the resignation of Bob McElroy, who has moved out of the city. Hyde took office on Nov. 22. The council has asked those interested in serving on the Planning Commission to submit their names to the city clerk. Appointment to the vacancy on the commission will be made from the list of applicants. (Dec. 1, 1965).

Women advised to take look at family finances

Businesses have reported a bigger shopping spree this past Christmas season than for many years. More expensive items were purchased with no question as to price. Those of us who were out looking at prices and shopping to fill the Christmas stocking, house, or even garage, were amazed at the number of people everywhere one turned. It almost seemed as if people wanted to get rid of their money and got impatient if no one was there to take it. What a shopping spree we've had in 1965.

At any rate, there comes a time of the year and January is a good month, says Olivia B. Thebus, Home Economist with the University of California, when nearly every family has to take a look at their finances and to decide "what next?" Financial security is seldom a matter of luck. Rather, it is the result of facing facts about your personal and financial matters and careful planning based on established rules of thrift, investments, and wise buying. Your family will go through many different stages in its development. There will be fluctuations in general economy and also cycles of prosperity and depression within given industries.

Mrs. Thebus advises that regardless of these changes, you will be better able to meet the fluctuations if you have a sound financial plan for your family. It should include:

. . . A reserve to meet emergencies.

. . . Protection against loss of income, property damage, sickness.

. . . Funds for special family goals.

. . . Provision for an adequate retirement income.

Financial planning is a lifetime affair and it takes a good deal of effort and family cooperation. But it's a way to achieve your goals and provide the security and peace of mind that are important in family living. Christmas comes but once a year, but there are birthdays, doctor bills, income taxes, tuition fees, vacations, clothing, and many other things where money is needed. So, at the beginning of a new year take a look at family finances and decide for yourself, "What next?"

Westhills club plan a party

Westhills Service Club will gather Wednesday, Dec. 29 at 7 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Wallace Byron, a short business meeting and holiday party featuring an exchange of gifts. Mrs. Arthur Cowdery presides.

Audrey Lou Cantrell is bride to William Irvine

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM E. IRVINE
(Audrey Loy Cantrell)

Audrey Lou Cantrell and William Edward Irvine were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony at the First Freewill Baptist Chruch in Campbell last month. Rev. Wayne Wagner officiated at the double ring ceremony before a large gathering of friends and relatives.

For her wedding day, Audrey was attired in a beautiful Chantilly lace gown designed with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her elbow length veil was secured with a pearl studded crown and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and pom pom mums centered with a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Martha Anne Cantrell was maid of honor. Her floor length gown was pink brocade taffeta and she carried white carnations and pom pom mums tied with pink satin ribbons.

Cathy Riemer of Campbell was the bridesmaid. Her gown of blue brocade taffeta was designed like that of the maid of honor and she carried white flowers tied with blue ribbons. Little Judy Sanders of Dallas, Oregon was the flower girl and Bobbie Irvine of Gilroy was the ring bearer. Robert Irvine, the bridegroom's brother served as best man. Ushers were Bob Hanson, John Trunnel and Mike Brown. Bryant Smith sang "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Orchard City Grange Hall. White carnations, glads and chrysanthemums decorated the buffet table and the happy couple cut a three-tiered wedding cake.

On her departure for their first home in Red Bluff, Calif., the new Mrs. Irvine chose a two piece red suit with black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ivan Cantrell Jr., of 190 W. Rose Ct., Campbell. She attended Campbell High School.

The bridegroom is the son of Claude R. Irvine of Hayfork, Calif., and the late Mrs. Irvine. He attended Hayfork High School and served four years in the U.S. Navy. He is presently employed as a logger with Wheeler Trucking Co. in Red Bluff.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Critics of the aggressive tactics of Great Society lieutenants in pushing for the passage of President Johnson's legislative program have found it difficult to gain public sympathy. I remember one despairing cloakroom comment which outlined the five basic requirements of a Great Society bill--"It must have a benevolent purpose, a good label which is easily sloganized, must automatically attract allies must have a built-in villain, and lastly, no one must know exactly what it will cost."

Though the partisan motivation of such a statement is obvious, it is not without a semblance of truth. All year Congress watched a parade of Presidential proposals aimed at high and moral purposes and, because the public did not have time to study them in detail, Congressmen who objected to some of the fine print and the costs involved ran the risk of seeming to be against old people, racial minorities and beauty, and in favor of poverty.

The so-called highway beautification bill was a classic example. Everyone hates the sight of an unseemly junkyard or a highway cluttered with obnoxious billboards "Highway Beautification" is an excellent label and a fine slogan. Its mere title brought automatic support from hundreds of garden clubs, nature groups and artistic and cultural organizations across the country. Automatically, any objection could be laid at the doorstep of the billboard lobby, which was assigned the villain's role. Even the Administration could not estimate what the bill would cost or how much power the Secretary of Commerce would have over local zoning and how many state constitutions would have to be changed because of the law.

Under the new highway beautification law, the Federal Government will pay 75 percent of the cost of moving junkyards to a point 660 feet from major highways and then will pay 75 percent of a landscaping screen to hide them. Even future junkyards may receive assistance from the federal taxpayer, up to 75 percent of the cost of a landscaping screen. Signs will be prohibited on all but industrial property, and the Secretary of Commerce may set up rules and regulations which will force local agencies to zone property in accordance with his regulations. If the Secretary determines that any state has not "effectively controlled" advertising signs and junkyards on federal aid highways by 1968, he can withhold 20 percent of a state's highway funds.

Administration leaders admitted they had no idea of the economic impact on business which would result from the bill and accepted an amendment to study it. As the minority stated: "It is a poor commentary...when legislation...must be amended to require a study of what its effect will be." Nevertheless and with no knowledge of what the eventual cost would be, the majority rammed the bill through in a session which lasted until 1:30 a.m. the morning President Johnson entered the hospital for surgery.

Most of the Great Society legislative program has been carefully chosen to appeal to natural human instincts which makes it difficult to oppose. Very few details have been given to the American public. But in the next year, those details, including the price tag, will begin to be seen.

Council gets tree-minded at final meeting

In three widely-separated instances, (1) involving a new subdivision, (2) a memorial to the late Judge Blaine and (3) a request for removal, trees played leading roles in City Council actions Monday night at the final meeting of the council for 1965.

The council approved the tentative subdivision map for Leep Homes on property located on the north side of Pollard Road west of More Ave. which is part of a tract that is separated from the City of Saratoga by the San Tomas Creek.

Before the approval, however, Richard Cummins, a Saratoga resident, who had faithfully attended the many prior hearings concerning the property, pleaded with the council to have the subdivider save the trees on the land. He was advised that one of the conditions in approval by the Planning Commission specified that the trees were to be preserved wherever practical.

William Bording, another Saratoga resident also appeared to object to the new tract as well as the zone change requested. Prior to the map approval, the council gave first reading to a zone change from R-1-8000 to R-1. The zone change allows lots in the area to be reduced from 8000 square feet minimum to 6000.

In another tree action, Mayor Charles Rose was directed by his fellow councilmen to work out details for the Blaine memorial tentatively planned for the city park on Gilman Ave. One of the suggestions made, it was reported, would be a living Christmas tree.

In the other tree situation, the council reluctantly approved the removal of the center camphor tree of a group of trees on property owned by H. Meger on Bland Ave. Meger had asked that all the trees be removed. The council specified that the cost of removal would be borne by Meger.

Mail appeal for March of Dimes

The mail man will be the emissary of the March of Dimes Monday Jan. 3, when the 28th annual March of Dimes gets under way with a county-wide mail appeal.

This will be followed on Tuesday with a "kickoff" dinner for the month-long campaign for funds to finance the National Foundation's battle against birth defects. The dinner will be at 17 WEST, San Jose restaurant, and is expected to attract volunteer workers from throughout the county to hear Jackie Cooper, California volunteer director for the March of Dimes.

Reservations for the dinner may be made by telephoning the Santa Clara County chapter, National Foundation-March of Dimes, 297-1864, according to the Campbell community MoD director, E. Tom Perry.

Perry urged his fellow citizens to support the March of Dimes He reminded that the American public first responded to the MoD 28 years ago, when it was organized to battle poliomyelitis. The funds donated through the following years help underwrite development of both Salk and Sabin vaccines--and meant the virtual elimination of polio.

Burglars take whiskey, cash

A burglar broke into Dalziel Plumbing Co., 197 Casey Rd., Thursday, Dec. 23, and stocked up for Christmas with a fifth of Old Crow bourbon, $80 in miscellaneous cash, $20 in stamps and a business check for $348.41.

Police reported the cash, check and stamps were taken from fire safe boxes which had been removed from the front office to the rear of the building, where they had been forced open. An investigation is being conducted.

Local police too slow; goes to State office

An irate Campbell man, Robert Steven Garnier, 34, of 195 W. Rincon Ave., broke up a Christmas party at the State Attorney General's office in San Francisco last Thursday, when he walked in carrying a gun.

Garnier was quoted as saying he was dissatisfied with the slow progress of an assault and battery case being prosecuted by the Campbell Police Department. After gett[illegible]g past a receptionist and into the office of Deputy Atty. Gen. Edward P. O'Brien, another receptionist spotted his holstered pistol. He reportedly made no attempt to draw the pistol and gave no resistance when police took him into custod[illegible]

The assault and battery case over which Garnier was aggitated happened Dec. 15 in the West Valley College parking lot. The victim, Richard Dutra, 28, was alledgedly beaten by three Santa Clara men.
